

BPP Julie Patel Foundation Award 2021-22

Impact Report

The Julie Patel Foundation Award is awarded to full-time, undergraduate students at the University of Toronto on the basis of financial need. We are pleased to present this report on the student who benefitted from your generosity from May 1, 2021, to April 30, 2022. Thank you for your support.

The Impact of Your Award:

1

students received support in 2021-22

$2,539

provided to students in 2021-22

2

students received support from inception*

$3,774

provided to students from inception*

XXX

2nd Year, Engineering Science

XXX decided to attend U of T because he wanted to make a difference in the world. Although he knows that pursuing his studies in Engineering Science will be challenging, he knows that his efforts will be worth it as he strives to use his education to promote more sustainable ways of life. His goal upon graduation is to use his skills to protect the earth and all the beauty within it, and to remind people how much we need to cherish our environment.

of engineering science. This award has helped to relieve the stress from the heavy workload during the school year. Not only has it helped me in funding my schooling but also in giving some room to enjoy the other aspects of life such as exploring new places with people or eating healthily at school. Receiving the award was a positive affirmation that all the work and stress will pay off and it was encouraging to receive. Thank you again for the award – it means a lot.

Dear Donor,

Thank you for your generous contribution in helping me continue my studies. I am currently a 2T4 in my second year